Dear JBM Alumni,

As the leaves are falling from the trees and we reflect on the seasons of life, how has your JBM experience helped make you who you are today? As God has impacted your life through the JBM ministry, think about how many other lives have been influenced by your participation in this ministry. Do you remember the days of singing around the campfire, barn storming, Ryan Q's hour of power, Badger and Ladybug, the "Big Oak", wagon rides, sleeping in the cabins, making new friends, chicken patties and smores, the boys Istanbul dance, counselor skits, Bible smugglers and counselor hunts, swimming, canoeing and wilderness camp, the ropes course, counselors and cits, Tom (the Woodsman) and Karen, playing in the sand, and your countless other JBM memories.

The purpose of JBM is to expand the ministry of Christ by providing a safe place for people to experience Christian community. Since the addition of the Haynam House in 1998, we have averaged over 6,000 overnight stays each year at Joseph Badger Meadows. That is a lot of people in the buildings, cars on the driveway, food served in the dining hall, and carpetball games in the barn. We have started a capital campaign to assist in helping to keep the JBM facilities safe and in good condition for those coming in the future to share and make similar memories.

We are inviting you and the other Alumni to partner with us on raising $75,000 for the Barn project which will include: work in the roof, foundation, cupolas, siding, and give it a fresh new coat of paint so the Barn can continue to be a favorite place to play. This will be one of the projects involved in this campaign. Other projects can be seen online at www.josephbadgermeadows.com

You can participate in several different ways. First, by keeping this campaign and the JBM ministry in your prayers. Second, by completing a campaign gift/pledge form included with this letter. And third, if you are in contact with other JBM alumni, we ask that you pass on this information and challenge them to share in this invitation.

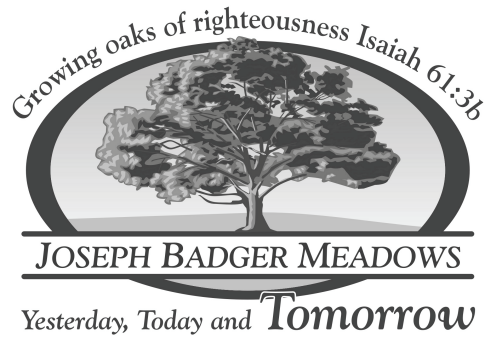

If you have any other questions, please contact the JBM Office at 330-772-3931 or email at jbmcmp@aol.com.

Sincerely,

JBM Capital Campaign Committee
